

GALAXY PIRATES

FAST ATTACK

Katar Fast Attack

The sleek Katar Fast Attack vessel is the fastest ship of its size in the fleet: built to make rapid advances around inner- and outer-system worlds, deter pirates, the Fast Attack ships remind would-be attackers that there is a price to be paid for intruding on Katar space.

The Katar Fast Attack class vessels are, like the Light Cruisers, most often deployed as part of system defense patrols. Frequently tasked with pursuit duties, they are generally supporting the vanguard of fighters and interceptors, who harry and delay targets while the Fast Attack ship maneuvers into position.

Although outfitted with torpedo launchers, the primary weapons profile of the Fast Attack ship is built around a battery of particle beams and laser cannons, providing consistent beam weapon coverage to all firing arcs. Unsubstantiated rumors persist that there is an all-missile variant of the Fast Attack class – a vessel capable of delivering a deadly barrage of heavy torpedo or missile fire and escaping the zone of destruction before the enemy can mount a counter attack. These rumors, though numerous, are (as previously stated) unsubstantiated, at best.
